Dear Marian and Lyn

Your poetic attempts give me much joy

On days when I feel a bit down;

They lift my mood, much like a toy –

But they're worth more than half of a crown!

My Mum's not well this Monday noon,

Perhaps her end will come soon.

For her I hope this will be so,

Though it'll be hard to see her go.

Good news from Ann – (she's way up on Mars) –

She's to wed next June and become Mrs Barrs!

So there'll be no room for 'Tom's at front of house

And if flower fairies come I'll stay quiet as a mouse!

So its aaaa for England, but 'rah for my Mum,

And 'rah for my family and friends,

And many thanks to you both, who always do come

To help me keep up my ends

Luv Joan
