Eden Valley Woodland Burial Ground

David Evans

David knew that the world could be made better, and that it should be so.

He supported many people, and their successes brought him great joy.

He loved to tell stories, and has left behind some superb ones.

David chose to be buried here because he liked the idea of soon returning to soil and becoming part of the world as it carries on.

His presence will still be felt.

Order of Service

Readings have been sent by David's sister Sally, his brother Gary, and niece Carrie. After the readings, we will pause so you may reflect on David's life. Following the burial we will be toasting David at The Wheatsheaf in Bough Beech.

Some things for the journey.
We love you. ti & t2 x
